

CARDEA Gives Back Programme

CARDEA Gives Back is making a significant impact in the research manager community by offering free micro-credential training to Research Managers in the European Research Area (ERA). This initiative aims to enhance the skills and knowledge of research managers, enabling them to better perform in their roles. By providing these valuable training resources at no cost, CARDEA is fostering a more knowledgeable and capable workforce, ultimately contributing to the advancement of research and innovation across Europe. This program not only empowers individuals but also strengthens the overall research infrastructure, promoting a culture of continuous learning and professional development.
